Liner With 300 Passengers Loses Bearings and Radio Station Tries to Keep it From Beaching

MIAMI (Fla.) Aug. 7. (AP).—The Tropical Radio Company's station here reported tonight that the steamship Algonquin of the Mallory Line, with 300 passengers aboard, has lost its bearings in the hurricane off Jupiter. The station's operators said they are centering their efforts to keep the vessel from running ashore on the beach.

The radio station said it was informed of the Algonquin's plight through the government wireless station at Jupiter, which reported that its equipment was damaged by the storm so that the Algonquin could barely hear its signals.

Death Now Mere Matter of Hours as Kidneys Cease to Perform Function

CHICAGO, Aug. 7. (AP)—Hope for the recovery of George F. Brumman, Democratic National Committee man for Illinois, who has been seriously ill from septic poisoning for more than a week, was abandoned by his family and physicians today after his kidneys ceased to function.

Mr. Brennan grew worse and at 6:45 o'clock he lapsed into unconsciousness.

State Representative Gill, Mr. Brennan's brother-in-law, said: "We have been given to understand that it is just a matter of time until his death."

Physicians report Mr. Brennan can not live more than a day or so.

Some motorists who reached here eighteen miles from here, will miss the city and veer northward into the open sea. Indications from the report, however, are that the storm which appears to be gathering off the city, will hit the mainland between Jupiter and Daytona Beach with hurricane force.

The rebels failed to take the city after a seventeen-hour siege. A detachment of rebels arrived and cruised the city killing and looting.

WEDDING GONG CALLS GENI

This Time Heiress to Steel Millions Rumored Ready to Sign Up With Champion

NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (Exclusive)—Rumors that Gene Tunney will marry shortly will not be quieted. His name was linked today with that of Miss Mary Josephine Rowland Lauder of Greenwich, Ct. Miss Lauder is the daughter of the late George Lauder, Jr., who was a nephew of Andrew Carnegie and a steel manufacturer in his own right, who said to have left millions.

Hinted at within the past week, the report that the retired heavyweight boxer had been heard from since and he may have halted his tour at the Lauder home.

Friends of the conqueror of Jack Dempsey, and Tom Heeney would give definite credence to the rumor, yet all admitted that Tunney had often visited Miss Lauder at her home in Greenwich.

COOLIDGE GETS SHEARS READY

He'll Lop Off All Obnoxious Appropriations

Reduced Revenue Because of Tax Cut Likely

President Determined Not to Have Any Deficit

SUPERIOR (WIA). Aug. 7. (P)—President Coolidge is preparing to take at the next session of Congress any bills carrying appropriations which would threaten the balance of the budget.

He was informed yesterday by Sen. Lord that the large appropriations already made by Congress and the possible reduction in revenue owing to last session's tax cut pointed to a possible, although unlikely, deficit of $100,000,000 on June 30, 1929.

FINANCIAL OUTLOOK
President Coolidge believes that the tax reduction promulgated last spring will have small effect on the general revenue returns of the country. The cuts effected, he thinks, were not of the kind to stimulate greatly the activity of industry and commerce and thus boost revenue. Any increase in revenue in the current year over previous years will have to be looked for, he thinks, in the general prosperity of the country.TRIP CONSIDERED
General reports received by him relative to business conditions in relation over point to fair tax returns in the current year. In view of the large appropriations already made and of the revenue reduction, President Coolidge is said to keep watch on future conditions.

President Coolidge would like to visit the Apostle Islands in Lake Superior this summer, but this intention appears somewhat unlikely. He is, however, still looking for possibilities of making the trip.

PROHIBITION DEBATED BY WOMEN PARTY LEADERS

Mrs. Willebrandt Clashes With Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in Radio Discussion

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. (P)—The relative merits of the law prohibiting the sale of alcoholic beverages was debated last night by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant attorney-general, and Mrs. Willebrandt, assistant attorney-general in the Democratic and Republican platforms.

The debate was the first of a series of radio discussions on the subject of prohibition, which will be continued by Mrs. Willebrandt, assistant attorney-general in the Democratic and Republican platforms.

WILD LIGHTNING FLASH CAUGHT IN TEN MILLIONTH OF SECOND

SCHENECTADY (N. Y.) Aug. 7. (P)—The fellow who said he was so fast he could switch out the light and be asleep before the room was dark now may know just how fast he needs to work to beat electricity. He has about five ten-millionths of a second.

The gauge of this speed was disclosed today in the announcement by the General Electric Company of the first close-up photo ever taken of "wild" lightning—that is, natural as distinguished from laboratory-made lightning.

The picture was taken July 27 at Wallingford, Pa., by an automatic cathode ray oscillograph, a high-speed camera developed in the company's general engineering laboratory, and said by its engineers.

stead Act, "would be the first to agree that in changing the law he is powerless unless Congress agrees with him."

Mrs. Willebrandt, taking the air for Hoover, declared the Democratic law enforcement plank did not go as far as the Republican, charged that Gov. Smith had "sneaked" his party's pledge by his message to the Houston convention and asserted Herbert Hoover "has a private life and habits of temperance which square with the party's pledge."

Mrs. Roosevelt contended that the Republican plank made no mention of enforcement of the "particular laws" passed to put into effect the Eighteenth Amendment, while the Democratic plank pledged its nominees "to an honest effort to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment and all other portions of the Federal Constitution and all laws pursuant to it."

Declaring the real reason why she, as a dry "in practice and theory of long standing," is "heart and soul" for Gov. Smith has nothing to do with prohibition, but is based on what he had done for New York, Mrs. Roosevelt said the Democratic nominee has stated his position very clearly to avoid any misunderstanding, while Hoover has neglected to say how he proposes to "work out constructive" the great social and economic experiment.

WILL TELL WHY
"Gov. Smith says that if elected he will propose a modification of the Volstead law," she continued. "Now, I have a feeling because the Governor is usually explicit, that before the end of this campaign he will tell me how he proposes to do it. I am willing to wait, but the method proposed there will be many protests and whatever it is the Supreme Court has to pass on it before it becomes the accepted law of the land."

"Now I know that the Governor will try to bring about what he thinks is right, and I want to emphasize here that the Governor feels that the saloon must never return, but let us remember that at the present time we have fought the evils of the saloon by methods of enforcement which have contributed to the greater evils of the bootlegger and speakeasy."

WORDS, JUST WORDS
Speaking of the Democratic platform pledge first, Mrs. Willebrandt asked: "What matters it now what words of promise to the American people on this great question the Democratic party has used since the candidate supplies those words with phrases of his own, phrases inconsistent with the letter and spirit of the party's pledge?"

"A recent apology for him," she added, "has by producing the minutes of the resolutions committee at Houston, sought to show that the plank in the Democratic platform did not pledge itself to prohibition. He says that was left open for future action. Even so, has the Democratic candidate not scrapped his party's guarantee to open-mindedness on the issue when he promises the use of his office and national leadership to effect a change? What, therefore, does he do to the large body in his party who believe in prohibition, who have worked for its adoption, who are opposed to its evasion or nullification?"

The Assistant Attorney-General emphasized as an outstanding characteristic in the Republican plank the pledging of its nominees to the "observance of the will of the people." "That is a new contractual obligation on the part of a great party, but the intellectual honesty of it commends it to wet and dry alike."

"It does not say," she continued, "they cannot work by every constitutional method to change the national policy, but the party refuses to allow resort to evasion or nullification as means of bringing that change about."

WOMEN'S VOTE IMPORTANT
Increasingly strong sentiment for Hoover is reported from Massachusetts by Congresswoman Edith Rogers, who was a visitor at headquarters today. Massachusetts women are organizing quietly for the Commerce Secretary.

In Iowa and among business men, Mrs. Rogers said, there is the growing belief that Hoover has been tried in every sort of an emergency and not found wanting yet.

More and more Republican leaders are coming to regard the woman vote as perhaps the decisive element in the coming election. A record-breaking woman vote for the Hoover-Curtis ticket is anticipated and was predicted today by Mrs. Daisy Curtis Gann, sister of the Republican Vice Presidential nominee.

"This year," Mrs. Gann said, "I will be on the back seat driving and watching the wheel."

Reports from Chicago indicate that the situation is clearing for Hoover in many of the States of the Midwest and Northwest where there has been opposition to him on the ground that he was antagonistic to agriculture. Gov. Smith's declaration that he would not stand for the equalization see in the McNary-Haugen bill has not helped the Governor's cause in the farm sections.

Socialists Plan Fight on Smith
NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (P)—The Socialist party will carry its Presidential campaign into the "solid South" this fall for the first time and will concentrate their fire on Gov. Smith, says a statement issued from Socialist headquarters. Speeches will be made by Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for President.

Smith in the proposed attack is to be assisted by a hidebound Tammany tool, said the announcement, and as a friend of organized wealth masquerading in the clothing of a "friend of the family."

Ida M. Tarbell Aids Democrats
NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (P)—Ida M. Tarbell, author and lecturer, has been appointed to the women's advisory board of the Democratic National Committee headed by former Gov. Nellie Taylor Ross of Wyoming.

In making the announcement today, Smith headquarters said that it was understood Miss Tarbell, a Republican, would take an active part in the campaign.

G.O.P. BATTLE MARCH NEARS

Artillery Ready to Move Up for Hoover Drive

Troops to be Massed in Two Important Sectors

Barrage Will Open as Work Arrives at Camp

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. (Exclusive)—The drive for Hoover in the two strategic battlegrounds, the border States and New England, is about to get under way.

Republican National Chairman Work will turn his attention to the New England and Atlantic seaboard States as soon as he returns from the Pacific Coast. The Republican heavy artillery then will be turned loose.

The Hoover board of strategy already is moving to repeat the triumphs of Harding and Coolidge in Kentucky and Missouri and heavy victory in other of the border States.

Representative W. E. Evans, one of the two Congressmen from Los Angeles county leaves here tomorrow to take over management of the Hoover campaign in Kentucky. He is the forerunner of others who will be sent from headquarters to handle affairs in the border States.

But it is in the East and Northwest that the Republican high command intends devoting most of its time and energies. It is in this territory that the real fight for the Presidency is anticipated. For this reason as soon as Dr. Work returns from Palo Alto, where he will attend the Hoover notification ceremony, he will hold a series of meetings with party workers and chairmen.

TO CANVASS SITUATION
State and county leaders as well as the national committeemen in each of these eastern States are expected at the coming conference. Harris & Kinsley, national committeemen from Vermont, said today.

"The meetings," Kinsley said, "will afford an excellent chance to canvass the situation, discuss common problems and enable the national leaders to learn what is being done in the field and to enable them at the same time to tell the State and county leaders what is being done to put over the national, as well as the entire Republican ticket."

"Besides that," he stated, "we will stress the desirability of emphasizing the great qualifications of both Mr. Hoover and Mr. Curtis for the offices for which they have been nominated. When everybody understands not only what they have done for the nation but what they can and will do to make a greater and more prosperous America for every group of citizens there will be no doubt as to the outcome of the contest."

Supervisor McSheehy Hounded Down by Colleagues

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7. (Exclusive)—Ever willing to entertain distinguished visitors, the Board of Supervisors staged a verbal and temperamental outburst over the transbay bridge problem for the benefit of Dwight Davis, Secretary of War, today. Eventually one of the supervisors walked out on the meeting and peace came only because the row kept the Cabinet executive so long a luncheon club got perturbed over his unexplained absence and rescued him.

Secretary Davis had consented to hear the supervisors explain plans to bridge San Francisco Bay. The War Department has opposed the Rincon Hill-Alameda mole site which the city is now attempting to have passed over that department's objection by a favorable vote in Congress.

FEMINISM AIDED BY INSULT

Affront Offered Persian Queen Helps Cause of Women, Asserts Canadian Traveler

NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (AP)—An insult to a queen has opened the way to feminism in the Far East, said Mrs. F. Evelyn Schopfocher of Montreal on her return from an airplane tour of the East in the interest of women's movements.

FEMINISM AIDED BY INSULT

The incident occurred when the Queen of Persia attended a mosque unveiled and was insulted by Mullahs who failed to recognize her, declared Mrs. Schopfocher, who said that as a result the Shah, Riza Khan Pahlavi, has become a leader in the movement to liberate the women of the East from enslavement to oriental customs.

The Shah, she says, became a feminist by accident and included stops in Persia, Arabia and Russia. In Russia, she said, soviet officials mistook her for a journalist seeking an interview with the exiled Trotsky, and brought about her hasty departure from the country. Her clothes, typewriter and other effects were stolen from her in Russia.

"But the most remarkable thing about this country," she said, "was the eagerness of the women to converse with me on religion and feminine movements with some one from another section of the world. I was continually brought on trains and whenever I stopped to give my time to them for such discussion."

WATER CONFERENCE ASKED

California Service Seeks Amicable Adjustment of Rates Covered in Petition for Resurvey

HANFORD, Aug. 7.—Confronted with a petition, filed by twenty-five rate payers headed by Mayor G. M. Wilson, for a resurvey and fixing of water rates, the California Water Service Corporation, through its attorney, ex-Judge J. O. Covert, has asked for a conference in an effort to effect an amicable adjustment. At a meeting of citizens and rate payers last night, presided over by A. D. Driver of the Board of Trade committee, it was said that the company which has lately acquired the Hanford Water Company is planning to expand between $10,000 and $20,000 on improvements, and that it would be inadvisable to make a revaluation at this time.

A hearing probably would involve the installation of a meter system which would result in increased cost of water on the same basis of consumption. City Attorney H. Scott Jacobs told an investigation conducted by the Board of Trade of the bills of 272 rate payers that showed an average increase in the charges of 33-1/3 per cent, and only 10 per cent, which there had been a reduction since the new company had taken over the plant. The present rates are incident to the conduct of a greatly overcapitalized and otherwise overvalued business.

RANCHMAN FOUND DEAD NEAR HOME

San Garrett Believed to Have Killed Himself from Illness and Money Worries

PORTERVILLE, Aug. 7.—San B. Garrett, about 60 years of age, resident of this section for a number of years, is believed to have committed suicide some time in the night. Garrett also leaves a former wife, Mrs. Victoria Garrett of Porterville, two grown sons here and a daughter in San Francisco. The body is at Lloyd's Undertaking Parlor where an inquest will be conducted some time tomorrow.

TEXAN YET IN DANGER OF DEATH

Victim of Hold-up Who Was Thrown from Truck to Gully in Critical Shape

TULARE, Aug. 7.—With John Rosen, 45 years of age, of Texas, still hovering between life and death at the County Hospital here, officers believe they have unearthed clues which may lead to early arrest of the persons who attacked him and threw him from a speeding truck to the side of the highway south of here Saturday morning.

Rosen was found unconscious by H. A. Pennebaker of this city, when he was attracted to a man lying crumpled flat lying beside the highway. He found the injured man in a deep ditch into which he had apparently rolled after being thrown from the truck.

Officers learned that C. Smith of this city had seen several men fighting in a truck near the scene of the attack a short time before. Rosen declares he was hiking north and was given a ride on the truck. In some way the men learned he had considerable money on his person, robbed and beat him and threw him from the truck.

Rosen is suffering from concussion of the brain. He is conscious only at intervals and unable as yet to give much information concerning the encounter or his relatives. He is reported to be from Palmdale, Tex., and to have several brothers there. Deputy Constable W. E. Burghardt was on duty today to question people reported to have witnessed the attack.

CROW INDIAN HUNTING GROUND GIVEN TO PALEFACES AS PARK

BILLINGS (Mont.) Aug. 7.—(P)—At the foot of the picturesque Pryor Mountains in the Eden of the Crow country, famed in Indian lore and legend, Chief Plenty Coos, head of the Crow nation and mentor of American Indian chieftains, today formally presented to the people of the United States a tract of land to be used as a park by future generations of whites and Indians. It has been the aged chieftain's home for more than a half century.

Maj.-Gen. Harbord, retired, under special commission from the Interior Department, accepted the gift for the government and voiced to Plenty Coos the thanks of the people.

In the picturesque background and with colorful settings, Chief Plenty Coos's tribesmen in their regalia mingled with Harbord's escort of army reserve officers. Because of his admiration for Gen. Harbord as a soldier, Chief Plenty Coos adopted him into the Crow tribe, conferring upon him the Indian name meaning "Mountain Eagle."

Feeling Runs High as Death of Raditch Nears

Hundreds Surround Home; Foe Assassinated

Regiments Drafted to Quell Possible Trouble

VIENNA, Aug. 7. (Exclusive)—There were indications today that feeling is running high in Jugoslavia with Stefan Raditch, who has been the cause of perhaps more political storms than any European statesman since the World War, presidential candidate.

The Belgrade government is reported to have drafted several regiments for duty at Zagreb today to quell possible trouble in the event of Raditch's death. Vladimir Kristovitch, editor of the Belgrade paper Jedinstvo, has been assassinated, according to Raditch in the columns of his paper.

Dispatches from Zagreb said an unfounded rumor of Raditch's death drew thousands of excited people of both sexes to the Croatian peasant party leader's villa. Hundreds of persons are remaining around the leader's home awaiting reports from the sick bed. Two specialists have been summoned from Vienna and one from Munich.

WOUNDED IN JUNE

Raditch was wounded by a Montenegrin Deputy on June 29 who during a session of Parliament fired a shot at the Croatian Deputy, killing two, including Raditch's nephew Paul, and wounding three others. There has been talk that the Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes formed in 1918 might evolve into a dual monarchy patterned after the late Austro-Hungarian empire. Parliament is already split, the National Assembly meeting at Belgrade and the opposition members from Croatia meeting in Zagreb.

The meeting of the Croat Parliament developed into a popular demonstration in favor of a "free Croatia." A series of resolutions was adopted refusing to recognize any decision or financial obligations undertaken by the "rump" Parliament at Belgrade. The resolutions also claimed full individuality for each of the provinces united in 1918 and full autonomy for the Croatian people.

PEACE IN 1935

The fire of hatred among the parties which culminated in the shooting in June had been temporarily extinguished by the efforts of King Alexander who effected a reconciliation in 1923. When Raditch was appointed Minister of Education by the King at that time it was thought that Jugoslavia's internal political troubles were at an end.

Raditch, however, precipitated a new crisis in April, 1926, when members of his party resigned from the Cabinet when their demand was refused for the reorganization of Parliament in order to question the Premier on charges of graft made against his son.

The activities and speeches of Raditch had far-reaching effects and on several occasions his attacks upon Italy and Premier Mussolini caused strained and delicate situations between the two countries.

After Raditch had been shot his adherents withdrew from the Cabinet and since then his party has consistently refused to acknowledge the legality of the Jugoslav government.

Eielson to Join South Pole Trip

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7. (Exclusive)—Just prior to his departure by airplane for Seattle today, Capt. Wilkins announced that Lieut. Carl Ben Eielson will pilot one of the Wilkins Antarctic planes this fall. Capt. Wilkins and Lieut. Eielson are known to have been in negotiation for several weeks, but it was understood Eielson was withholding acceptance of the Wilkins offer because he was considering a pilotage contract for a tentatively arranged Tokyo flight, sponsored by Detroit business men.

In announcing Eielson's acceptance, because of postponement of the trans-Pacific flight plans, Capt. Wilkins spoke jubilantly.

Eielson piloted Wilkins on his Southwestern flight.

Wilkins went to Seattle to select a special wood for use in one of his South Pole planes, now under construction by the Lockheed-Vega plant of Los Angeles.

Wet Democrat Renominated

DENVER, Aug. 7. (P)—Harrison White, Democrat, elected a Representative from the First Congressional District, Denver county, last December on a platform calling for a modification of the Volstead Act, was renominated by the Democratic Congressional convention to succeed himself today.

Representative White was chosen to succeed the late Representative Valle following a campaign in which he was pledged to work for light wines and beer.

His renomination today by the Democrats of Denver county was accomplished following a report from him that, if chosen to succeed himself, he will continue to work for a modification of the prohibition law.

Union Labor to Roost on Fence

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Aug. 7. (P)—Organized labor was advised to continue to adhere to a nonpartisan political policy during the present Presidential campaign in a statement issued today by the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor.

The statement adds that in view of expectation of declarations of "great significance to labor" in the coming speeches of acceptance "we will await with very great interest the expression of each candidate, reserving to ourselves the final decision regarding our future policy during the remainder of the campaign."

STEP TAKEN FOR SOLVING RAISIN ILLS

Vineyardists in Northern Session Start Plans for Forming Marketing Pool

Meeting Held in Bay City by New Committee

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7. (Exclusive)—A step toward solving the 1938 raisin problem was taken today by the directors of the California Vineyardists' Association. The action follows the rejection by the growers of the original pooling plan advocated by Donald D. Conn, managing director of the association.

At a meeting at the Palace Hotel it was decided to organize at once a raisin institute and to draw up a form of contract and by-laws for a raisin pool organization to be submitted to the various districts for decision whether or not to organize into local unions, these later to form a central pool.

The purpose of the raisin institute will be to bring together all packers to co-ordinate marketing activities.

The determination to submit a form of contract and by-laws to the growers is the answer to various requests made chiefly by outside growers not affiliated with the Sun-Maid organization.

While the raisin season will be early this year, there remains three or four weeks in which the growers can agree, it was stated.

Conn's plan for a pool to handle this year's crop was rejected by growers at Fresno last Friday. The following day, independent growers at Clovis and other centers assembled to discuss the situation.

These local meetings appealed to the California Vineyardists' Association to consider other means for meeting the problem.

Approximately one-half of the fresh grapes produced in California annually are turned into raisins. The 12,000 grape growers will produce this year about 2,555,000 tons of grapes, according to the latest field surveys. This means about 1,250,000 tons of fresh grapes made into raisins, or between 250,000 and 300,000 tons. This is said to be greater than the market demand.

(P)—A service contract, under which 450 Western Union Telegraph offices will be installed in Louisville and Nashville railroad stations has been made according to an announcement last night by E. S. Joubert, president of the L. and N. The Western Union company will install the 450 offices throughout the four states in which the railroad operates.

(P)—A verdict of guilty, with assessment of the death penalty, was returned this morning by the jury in the case of Tony Mangiaracina, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the robbing of the Home Trust Company here and the slaying of "Happy" Smith, traffic officer, June 14, last.

LICENSE URGED FOR ALL FLYERS

Federal Air Chief Addresses State Safety Body

Says Uniform Regulations for Planes Needed

Meeting Held in Bay City by New Committee

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7. (Exclusive)—Licensing of all airplane pilots, whether engaged commercially or for personal pleasure, was declared a matter for serious consideration to assure the utmost in safety for aviation by William P. MacCracken, Jr., assistant Secretary of Commerce in charge of Aeronautics, speaking today to members of a State aviation safety committee named recently by the Railroad Commission.

"Some set of regulations to govern passenger-carrying and freight transportation will have to be outlined when the industry is ready and we are working on that plan now," MacCracken said. "One thing to keep in mind in the adoption of a code of air-traffic regulations is that they must be uniform and simple. Too many automobile accidents are caused by drivers of one city finding different rules to obey in other cities."

Whether or not all pilots of planes, regardless of the nature of their flying, should be required to get licenses from the Federal government is one of the biggest problems before the department.

"For the safety of everyone involved, it would be the solution to require everyone to get licenses. At present only commercial aviators, carrying passengers for hire, must have licenses, but many planes are flown by unlicensed pilots who are in the game for just the sport. That factor must be decided soon, too."

The State then can contend that planes flown by unlicensed pilots constitute a menace to persons on the ground and the police could arrest any pilot without a license.

NURSING OF CONTAGIOUS CASES AIDED

Isolated Wards Needed No Longer, Delegates to Hospital Conference Hear

San Francisco, Aug. 7. (Exclusive)—Hospital patients suffering from contagious and noncontagious diseases may be treated with impunity in the same surroundings now, delegates to the American Hospital Association conference were told here today.

The reason lies in the establishment by medical science that contagious diseases are not air-borne, but contact-borne. Patients may be safely treated in buildings on the same grounds as the general hospital for sufferers from noncontagious diseases. They may even be treated in wards of the general hospital or the same wards, as long as there is competent medical and nursing supervision and proper technique is observed. In this way some of the obvious difficulties of medical and nursing service are overcome and it has been found contagious cases can be more economically handled than when isolated in distant and separate hospitals.

NEW LAW ATTACKED

Court Takes Under Submission Plan To Save Condemned Man

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7. (P)—Attorneys for Allen Coen, sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. G. Mace, artist, at Hanford, last winter, today completed argument before the State Supreme Court, which took the case under submission. The court has ninety days to render an opinion.

The appeal was based on an attack on the new California law regulating insanity as a murder defense. Coen pleaded "not guilty" and "not guilty by reason of insanity." His attorneys argued that his trial on the two pleas before the same jury is unconstitutional, because it placed the defendant twice in jeopardy and because the jury was "antagonistic" during the insanity trial, having previously convicted Coen of the double murder. C. H. Wilson, Kings county deputy district attorney, appeared for the State.

CONGRESS PUTS MEXICO ON EDGE

Feeling Tense as President Must be Named

Obregonistas Have Power to Choose Ruler

Business Interests Hope for Pacific Session

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 7. (Exclusive)—Mexican politicians are beginning to grudge at their battle as September draws near, when the Thirty-third Congress will convene to face the situation that will establish a precedent so far as is known here. No President-elect has ever before been slain during the period between his election and that of taking office. In the jobs of the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate conversation is centered upon who will be the man Congress will select to succeed President Calles as provisional President after December 1, whether or not he will be Calles himself, although he has stated his determination to retire from public office.

Observers declare that the Obregonista revolutionary bloc, which represents the majority in the lower House as well as Senate can easily enforce its program upon Congress provided there is no split in their ranks, which so far has not been apparent. At all events Mexican politicians find themselves in a tight position and public interest is becoming more and more centered on the opening day of Congress, speculative as to the results that will ensue therefrom.

This political problem has had its effect on business in general with the average man in commercial life hopeful that a peaceful and satisfactory selection will be made of some man who will be able to muster about him the country's factional leaders.

DeFoe and Golden Fight to Draw in Semifinal

BY PAUL LOWRY

Experience and a whistling left that found its mark without number beat Earl Mastro, the Chicago kid who hadn't been defeated in thirty-three fights, in a fast and furious fight at the Olympic last night.

His conqueror, Fidel La Barba, the former flyweight king, taking his second step along the comeback trail after a year's absence from the ring, fought a well-nigh perfect fight. Mechanically and technically speaking there were no flaws in the La Barba execution. And there were no errors of judgment.

He won seven out of the ten rounds and there could have been no other verdict in spite of the fact that the little curly head received his usual ovation.

Lane Says He Guesses He'll Have to Move

"If the next move is up to me, as Wrigley says it is, I guess I'll have to move my Hollywood Stars some place else," remarked Bill Lane yesterday when he was asked what his plans are now in the "ladies'-free" squabble at Wrigley Field. "Wrigley owns Wrigley Field and if he doesn't want me there, why there's nothing left for me to do but get out."

The Hollywood boss's present plan is to move the Stars to Oakland and call his outfit the Berkeley club. This would mean continuous baseball for both Oakland and San Francisco. This plan might not go over with the San Francisco and Mission clubs, but they might agree to it to keep the league from sinking.

Shellenback and Murphy Are Easy for Krug Crew

BY BOB RAY

If Marty Krug's Angels are going to be as nasty about it for the rest of the season as they were yesterday, Bill Lane and his Hollywood Stars will move out of Wrigley Field before 1929.

All those Seraphs did was to turn the first battle of the Civil War series into a massacre. The Stars winding up on the disastrous end of a 15-3 score. Fifteen solid safeties ran off the Angel bats and three of them were home runs. The Krugmen turned an otherwise ordinary ball game into a rout in the eighth when nine of their athletes flittered over the plate in a parade that made certain of a Hollywood defeat.

The setback shoved the Stars back into a tie for first place with Sacramento's Senators, who blanked Portland in their contest yesterday. The Stars lost, however, and are still three games behind the dead-locked pace-setters.

Frank Shellenback, the spitball specialist, started on the mound for the Stars but gave way in the second after the Cherubs had drilled him for five runs. "Archie" Bill Murphy followed Shelly and was the victim of the Angels' big parade in the eighth when he gave way to Phil Mulcahy, who halted the slaughter and ended the contest.

Wilbert Peters, who holds the distinction of being the Cherubs' leading hurler, portended the Shells' submission albeit he was exceedingly generous with his hits. The Stars' third batter, Phil Mulcahy, pitched the runs were in a rather negative proportion. After the Angels had the contest in their hands, Krug lifted Peters and let Chesley, the wild young man, get the Stars out in the final inning.

Returning to that eighth-inning rout, the Stars' bats were as busy as the Angels' in the eighth when nine of their athletes flittered over the plate in a parade that made certain of a Hollywood defeat.

CLAPP WINS 400-METER HEAT IN GREAT FINISH

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 7. (P)—Men and women swimmers from the United States today made a much better showing in water sports than their comrades in the track and field division could boast at this stage of the big athletic carnival last week.

Thomas Blankenburg, a 200-meter specialist, started on the mound for the Stars but gave way in the second after the Cherubs had drilled him for five runs. "Archie" Bill Murphy followed Shelly and was the victim of the Angels' big parade in the eighth when he gave way to Phil Mulcahy, who halted the slaughter and ended the contest.

Miller Gets Unlucky Deal

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 7. (P)—Hyman Miller, Los Angeles flyweight, lost to Sarica of Belgium by decision in three rounds in the opening Olympic boxing tests today. The decision was very unpopular with the spectators, who cheered Miller as he left the ring and hissed the judges and referee.

MUNICIPAL STADIUM (Cologne, Germany) Aug. 7. (P)—A strong United States track-and-field team, many of its members performing more sensationally than in the Olympics, swept the international meet here today, winning nine out of sixteen events.

Three German records were surpassed—in the 400-meter hurdles, high jump and javelin—and world records were menaced in at least half the events. Sweden and Hungary each won two events and France and Germany each one. The lone Teuton triumph came when Emil Hirschfeld beat John Kuck at shot-putting.

HENRIBERG (Holland) Aug. 7. (AP)—Only two places were officially awarded in the Olympic bicycle road race today both to teams and to individuals. WALLACE BEERY in Blindfold test of leading cigarettes . . . says no brand can "double" for OLD GOLD

WALLACE BEERY, popular Paramount screen star, who plays the leading dramatic roles in "Beggars of Life" and "The Tong War."

"You have heard of some actors that can't be 'doubled' in the movies. Well, Old Gold is like that. No other brand can 'double' its fine flavor and smoothness . . . even in the dark. That's why I picked it in the blindfold test. And that's why . . . from now on . . . OLD GOLD and I are going to be 'Partners in Crime.'"

Wallace Beery

Why you can pick them . . . Three types of leaves grow on the tobacco plant . . . coarse top-leaves, irritating to the throat . . . withered ground-leaves, without taste or aroma . . . and the heart-leaves, rich in taste and fragrant smoking qualities. Only the golden heart-leaves are used in OLD GOLD.

How the test was made . . . This test was conducted by the representative of a leading Eastern university and a disinterested witness selected by them. Mr. Beery was asked to smoke each of the four leading brands, while blindfolded, clearing his taste with coffee between smokes. Only one question was asked, " . . . which one do you like best?"

The Accused
Oh, I shall be, till Gabriel's trump, Nostalgic for some distant dump; And ever doomed to weep me dry For some lost mediocre guy.
DOROTHY PARKER.

A Likely Candidate
That new lightweight of yours showing anything, Spike?
"Naw! He's got lotsa science an' flash. But he keeps floppin' on me. Everytime I think he's gonna put up a fight he just dances around, and looks tough, shakes his fist in the other guy's face an' then don't even try to land a wallop. I dunno what t' do with him."
"Why don't you run him for Congress?"

Thrifty, Too
The tendency to strip popular heroes of their glory knows no limit. Documents have come to light which prove that the early bird was really a late bird getting home at dawn, and that he brought in the worm as a peace offering to his wife.

F. Sartori Back at Desk After Foreign Tour

Reports European Conditions Pointing Upward

Recovery Specially Notable in France, Germany

Following back an optimistic report on conditions in Europe, J. F. Sartori, president of the Security Bank and head of the L. O. S. Association, returned yesterday from a month's visit to France, Germany and a number of other European countries.

Fifty years ago Mr. Sartori made his first trip to Europe as a university student and since then he has made the trip numerous times.

His annual tour abroad have been regarded as a Southern California institution, particularly during the last ten years with Europe in the process of rehabilitation.

The financial, industrial and living conditions are improving all over Europe, that wages are being paid to the cost of living, and there is considerably less unemployment than in the United States.

In the opinion of Mr. Sartori, the European situation is improving, and he expects a recovery in the near future.

Even the casual visitor to Europe can perceive a more cheerful spirit than a few years ago, he said.

STOCK MARKETS ACTIVE

Intensive activity on the Paris Bourse stock exchanges is one of the outstanding features of the life of these two cities today, said Mr. Sartori.

"Nevertheless, the bull movement in securities is not as far-reaching as the speculative mania which was evident in the stock markets of our country a few months ago, primarily because the rank and file of people do not have the money to speculate."

Another fact is the fact that there is a public opinion regarding the real value of assets of corporations in this country. Individuals are not so readily induced when their intrinsic worth is maintained through severe conditions.

One of the most remarkable instances of the collapse which followed the death of a market leader was the case of Alfred Loewenstein, a German financier. He was in business of buying the best industrial, utility and bank stocks at market prices and reselling them for two or three times their market value to the speculating public through the medium of shares in his own companies. After his death the market prices of shares in his corporations dropped to a price approximating their real value.

CRASH Averted

The collapse of Lowenstein's stocks created a flurry on European exchanges, but the strength in the remainder of the lists was sufficient to prevent any serious developments. The break in his stocks, however, served as another example of how, in the long run, all speculative stocks will seek their level and sell on the exchanges at a price on which it is possible to make fair and real net earnings.

Discussing some of the incidents of his trip, Mr. Sartori said: "Our tour through the towns of France and Germany were struck with the busy and prosperous appearance of the citizens. Business buildings, apartment houses and dwellings are in process of construction everywhere, particularly in the larger German cities.

"Germany is making every effort to attract the bumper American tourist crop which is now over Europe. Hotels and steamship companies are doing rushing business and from all reports there are more Americans abroad now than in any year before or after the war.

"It would appear that England is in a stronger and sounder financial position than she has been for some years past. The repatriation payments now annually received by England about equal the amount she annually pays the United States. Despite the constantly increasing number of women in the industrial life of England reports show that there are some 300,000 less unemployed men than two or three years ago."

While at Kiel, Mr. and Mrs. Sartori attended the regatta held at that German port. They were guests on board the yacht of Mrs. C. Copley, Illinois capitalist and California newspaper owner. The Sartoris and Copleys returned to New York together on the steamship Majestic.

discovery of new fields in Texas and California.

Motors also turned reactionary with General Motors dropping from 193 1/4 to 187 1/4 and General Motors declared at Thursday's meeting. Montgomery Ward, which again showed special strength, running up more than 8 points to a new high record at 197 1/4 and then ending at 195. Sears, Roebuck touched a new top at 128. Ralls showed signs of about a month, but the early loss of 1 to 4 points were not fully maintained. Heavy buying of Western Maryland issues attracted attention.

A spectacular rally of nearly 25 points in pocket on the announcement that a credit had been arranged for the Bank of Spain to help stabilize the peso, which was quoted around 16 1/2 cents, forced the foreign exchange market. Other European rates were mixed with sterling cables holding steady around $4.85 1/2.

CLEARINGS, MONEY

MIX DESCRIBES HOME DISCORD

by bringing with it the things that he could not tolerate.

"I love my wife dearly and my child is everything I have and I don't say these things as my reflection upon Mrs. Mix," he said. "I think the change will make her see that I am right and that happiness can be ours if we want it."

"I don't need this estate to make me happy. I don't need a party. I don't need $75,000 worth of automobiles. I can be happy with a good home, a lot of silver-silver-silver and a contented wife and a healthy child. The other things I provided to make her happy, apparently didn't."

SURE SHELL RETURN

"When she told me she was going to go abroad I told her she could have anything that she wanted. I am sure she doesn't want a divorce and that she will come back to the home that is always open to her. She didn't say she wanted to go when she left and not a word was said about a divorce when she kissed her good-by at the train. She talked to her on the telephone from New York before she boarded the liner."

Mix said he and members of his wife's family still are on the terms. Her father, Arthur Parsons, is his business manager.

The cowboy-actor ridiculed reports Mrs. Mix made the trip to Paris solely for a divorce, saying it is impossible, according to legal information he has been given for her to receive a divorce unless he is present in Paris himself and personally is served with divorce papers. He said his presence is impossible in Paris until 1930 because of his present contract and his contract for radio appearances.

Today's Bible Text
The liberal soul shall be made fat: and he that is watered shall also himself. Prov. 11:25.

NOT WORTH WHILE
Fame may be worth winning, but it is hard to live up to.

SELF-STARTER
Popular government is where a guy picks out the laws he is ready to obey.

MORE THAN HIS SHARE
The American who travels abroad has to pay too much for passports to get much fun out of it.

UNDER COVER
Anyhow the haberdashers there are so far unable to create a strong market for brown derby hats.

THESE AMERICANS
Mayor Rickard can stage a scrap between Ureman and Fippo for the championship of Manhattan Island.

NOT WORKING
The man who can get all the worms he wants for bait isn't very much excited over the political campaign.

DOMESTIC ECONOMY
Nowadays they call it domestic efficiency when mother and daughter can smoke the same brand of cigarettes.

SAME BRAND
Woman is not the only animal finding sex in scandal. There is man. But so far as known these are the only ones.

MUSICAL NOTE
One year we have no bananas and the next no rain. The man with the bald head says that it is no wonder we still have the blues.

NOT SO HARD
The great philosopher declares that while the get-way is so easy it is strange to say that the way of the transgressor is hard.

MODERN TURKEY
In adopting American methods the young Turks readily appropriated the tag-day idea, but they haven't got around to spending hours reading the ticker.

GROUND RULES
Our splendid War Secretary tells us in a Los Angeles talk that commercial aviation in America is now on solid ground—which, by the way, is no place for aviation to be, except for safe landing. It must be up in the air a good part of the time.

GOING BY WATER
At our harbor it is now possible to ship our California products through to Detroit and Chicago by water. It's a nice long ride, but at that it may be about as cheap as in sending the stuff over the rails. The water haul is ever the low-priced one.

THE WATER CURE
Gov. Smith is mentioned as having recently swallowed two tall glasses of ice water in public. Maybe he wants to leave the impression that he has turned prohibitions. What discipline does Tammany use on a member who hoists two beakers of plain water into his boom at one sitting?

NOTHING WASTED
A local lawsuit shows that big business is interested in the salvaging of old shoes, bottles, tin cans and other major numbers in the world's junk pile. It seems that a fair grade of jamme can be distilled from old shoes—although few folks would have thought of this miracle. Heretofore most of the jamme essence has been garnered from the blooms of Persia and Arab, but if the aroma can be sliced from a pair of ancient boots—why waste money on the Persians? It also appears that glass beads are made from empty gin bottles—thus giving another outlet to the by-products of the bootlegger. The various uses of empty cans and sardine boxes are not fully explained, but corporations do not waste effort where money can be ring in a flock of diamond-forded cars. The great point is that men are finding practical use for almost everything that is listed as total waste. Sounds as if Herbert Hoover might have started this thing.

ATTACKING THE PUBLIC

In his intemperate tirade against the public-utility companies, Hiram Johnson not only ignores the facts, but is doing serious damage to Hoover, whom he is supposedly supporting, though so far in his speeches he has ignored the Republican Presidential candidate altogether.

One of the absurdities of the Johnson tirade has already been pointed out—the characterization of the "power trust" as a $17,000,000,000 concern, inasmuch as $17,000,000,000 is about double the capitalization of all the companies in the United States, large, small and medium, producing electric power—and not even Johnson would assert that the power industry is 100 per cent in the so-called "trust."

But in attacking the power industry Johnson is, in fact, attacking the public, or a large and increasing portion of it, since to a very large extent the power companies are customer-owned. The proportion of customers owning stock in electric companies is as much as 50 per cent in some cases, and a noteworthy example is one of the particular subjects of Johnson's animosity, the Southern California Edison Company, which has 115,000 stockholders.

In addition to the stock ownership, the public directly or indirectly holds an enormous proportion of the bonds. By indirect public ownership is meant bond investment by such quasi-public institutions as life insurance companies, which in 1926 had 30 per cent of their funds invested in the bonds of public utility companies other than roads. Inasmuch as the life insurance business is now almost 100 per cent mutualized, that is, owned by its policy holders, every man or woman who carries life insurance would be injured if Johnson could destroy what he calls the "power trust." Depositors in savings banks also are indirect investors in the power business and would be adversely affected if Johnson could carry his schemes into execution.

As an illustration of the diverse ownership of the power companies, figures recently gathered show that in 1928 23.3 per cent of all the stock sold by power companies was sold on the deferred payment plan. This indicates that nearly one-fourth of all the new stock sold was acquired by persons who were paying for it out of earnings, a little at a time.

The exact number of the millions of individual stockholders of the power companies in the United States has never been computed, but it is evident they are approaching the same conditions as the millions of life insurance companies. Since 1914 233 separate companies have adopted plans designed to distribute their stock among their employees and their customers.

This is genuine public ownership, as distinguished from the spurious variety advocated by Johnson and his friends, in which the public has no interest except, as taxpayers, to pay the bills, and which is managed by bureaucrats for the benefit of politicians.

Takes the case of one of these power companies which Johnson would destroy, and estimate its importance to the general public. Of Southern California Edison Company not only has, as has been said, 115,000 stockholders, but it spends $28,000,000 a year in extensions and improvements and disburses $14,000,000 a year in wages and salaries. Much of the remainder of its expenditures also goes eventually in wages, for the materials it purchases are manufactured by wage-earners. It is evident that the Edison company has directly interested in its property stockholders, wage-earners and other beneficiaries to the extent of at least 10 per cent and more probably 20 per cent of the whole population of Southern California.

Johnson's attacks against this single corporation, therefore, jeopardize the interests of thousands of thousands of voters in this section, who, if they fail to understand that Johnson in this matter is not echoing the views of Hoover, may be alienated from the latter's support. Hoover, of course, has no part in such demagoguery. He does not consider the millions of stockholders in the various power companies of the nation to be sinister and unprincipled enemies of the public welfare, nor does he wish to endanger the investments of these millions of people and impair the security of the nation which they have placed in his hands.

LEE SIDE O' LA

by Lee Shippey

PIONEERS, O pioneers!
We have faced the hardships endured by the pioneers of the latter frontier. Little do we think of the struggles and fortitude of those who came today, with the same spirit, the same determination to make a fresh start in a new land in which the opportunities outnumber the men.

Drive out any of the principal hot-dog stand thoroughfares entering Los Angeles and check the cars which round up daily in any one of our camps. You will be amazed by the nerve, determination and seeming lack of mechanical judgment which has carried some of the newcomers so far. They didn't know enough, some of them, to know that their flippers never could bring them here—and so they've done it.

Just now more than 1000 automobiles daily bring in tourists and home-seekers from eastern points. Perhaps 60 per cent of the cars are suggestive of ready money if not of opulence. But some of the others—

Young Adventurers
Yesterday we came on a man, a woman and a flapper, all in the late twilight of life. The man was past 30, the woman in the 70's and the flapper looked to be about 90. Their car was almost hidden by bedspreads, mattresses and household utensils.

After due consideration, they had decided to take Greener's advice about going west with the country. They said they had driven all the way from Arkansas.

You wouldn't have thought those old folks could have even loaded that flapper, much less have made such a journey.

By the way, there certainly ought to be a society for the prevention of cruelty to flappers.

For Publicity Mainly
"Mussolini Imposes Silence on Noble." That a death-blow action like that would be to about 60 per cent of the flights staged by Americans!—Adam Slinnick.

Feeding the Lions Lewlay: Supplementing that note you published about how the wild burros of New Mexico are being brought to Los Angeles to feed the circus lions, I was out to Mr. Gay's farm last night. He said it strikes me that while the lions may be all right booting products, no real wines or liquors being sold to the squad. No person of discriminative taste would envy a policeman the job of imbibing such stuff, and yet the boot patrons of this privilege.

There seems to be plenty of New Yorkers who think that Broadway should be allowed to do as it pleases and who are ready to poison themselves to demonstrate it.

VAMPING VENUS
A college professor has been taking pictures of Venus without her drapery. That sounds like a case for the police, but it is really only a matter of an astronomer catching our neighboring planet without the nebulous cloud that usually surrounds that heavenly body. A Venus without her veil would make Anthony Comstock turn over and groan, but here it is merely an achievement of an enthusiastic astronomer.

THE BIG SLUMP
There were thirteen delegates in the convention of the national progressive party when the platform was adopted at Omaha last week. That means that the organization will be out of luck in garnering votes this year.

THE SPIDER
By James J. Monaghan
The spider's never been to school—He's far too young to go. He does not know a single rule That engineers must know. He cannot even read a word. He has so little brains, And so, of course, he's never heard Of angle, lines and strains.

Yet summer mornings he comes out While still the grass is wet And scatters silver threads about With which to lay his net. Each filament is soon hauled taut, And lo! a wonder has been wrought No engineer could do.

The spider peers with hungry eyes From out his hidden lair To count the foolish little flies That when he sets his snare. And when at last the laden lure Hangs heavy in the breeze, The crafty, bright-eyed epicure Will banquet at his ease.

The spider lacks the power of thought That you and I possess. And how his miracle is wrought Is puzzling, you'll confess. But though tonight when you have dined If even, with your reasoning mind You'll work the puzzle out.

ABUSING THE POLICE
BY FRANK GARBUTT
Some newspapers, certain clergymen and various individuals seem to have acquired the habit of baiting the police. This has been a favorite sport since police were created.

Crooks and underworld denizens work in two ways; they bribe those guardians of the law who are corruptible and ruin the reputations of those who are not. Reformers who don't know any better and newspapers that should know better broadcast charges more or less based on fact. They usually are unwittingly being used by the underworld.

When a preacher attacks the police it is apparent he is seeking cheap publicity. When an individual maligns them it is probable that his corns have been stepped on, but when a newspaper prints stories to their discredit a lot of folks assume the force is inefficient or corrupt.

Intelligent citizens look for the motive behind the act and appraise correctly its worth, but in the aggregate the destructive effect of abusing the police is terrific.

The police are the guardians of our property and our lives at the risk of their own. They are poorly paid for the chances they take and the abuse they receive. As a rule they are efficient, honest and more polite than the people with whom they come in contact.

Why abuse them? They are our only protection against organized crime. Is it profitable to heap ridicule and contempt upon them or upon their equipment? Is it profitable to destroy their morale and weaken their loyalty to us?

Why make it twice as easy for the enemies of civilization to corrupt our police? Why make it twice as hard for the police to defend us?

In time of war what would happen to the individual, the preacher or the newspaper who called our army and its officers crooks, thieves and inefficient? They would be summarily dealt with.

SOUTHERN (CA) Aug. 1—
[To the Editor of The Times:] Some time ago I read in your paper a communication about the expulsion of St. Paul from the Eagle Cafe of Mr. Lottifensky in which it was stated that Count Andre Tolstoy, nephew of the celebrated Russian novelist, was questioned.

I beg to state that the gentleman mentioned above is not a nephew of my father and not in any way related to our branch of the family.

COUNT LYLA L. TOLSTOY.
ANNOUNCER DEFENDED
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3—
[To the Editor of The Times:] In two of your recent issues, one of last Saturday and one of August 2, you published two letters, both of them referring to a question of the manner of announcing the Bowl concert. Now in all fairness to the announcer, whose position does not allow him to defend himself, I am going to make one or two points which I think are of the spirit of the Bowl concert.

In my humble opinion I consider the remarks of the announcer, particularly when he is during the intervals, does his best to explain the spirit of the music to be next rendered, and very considerably to the pleasure of the concert as a whole, and I should not miss the description. If "Fraser" had been as sensitive as he had been "jaded" he is not obliged to listen in. There would be nothing to prevent him in his craving for "a bit of music" that was as a delightful interlude from switching over during intervals to another station who could give him some of the music of the Bowl concert.

A sufficient number of "jaded" men would be heard some one "Sing Me a Baby Song." No doubt he would be so glad that he would not care to drop down to the level of the Bowl again.

A Job For It Due
MONROVIA, Aug. 4—
[To the Editor of The Times:] The month of July ended with a "wave of banditry" in Los Angeles county. In one instance eleven men watched a bank robber enter the vault and help himself.

I would suggest that Sheriff Bill Traeger communicate with the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Office and endeavor to secure the loan of Cassin Mori, the man who exterminated the Mafia, and delegate to him the job of cleaning up the criminal element which infests Los Angeles and vicinity.

TRY ST. JOHN
COMPTON, Aug. 6—
[To the Editor of The Times:] In this morning's issue, in telling how President Coolidge was in church, you say the blind preacher recited the first twenty-one verses of the third chapter of the Gospel according to St. Paul. Though my own eyesight is excellent I have failed to find anywhere in my edition of the Bible this gospel according to St. Paul which the blind preacher had memorized. Would he further light on this missing part of the Scriptures. D. D.

CAUSE OF DOMESTIC DISCORD
Temperamental complaints are agreed upon by 100 women at random, as the primary cause of domestic unhappiness, according to the results of a questionnaire appearing in the Women's Home Companion. A similar questionnaire had been submitted to 100 men.

While there were forty-one complaints of temperamental dissatisfaction from the men, there were thirty-seven such claims from women. But where thirty-nine of the 100 men had no complaints to make against their matrimonial ventures only twenty-five women came through with the reply "nothing" when asked what was wrong with their marriage. The results of the questionnaire were made known through Dr. G. V. Hamilton, who conducted the examination.

Following temperamental dissatisfaction, physical dissatisfaction and lack of personal freedom ranked next in number of complaints from women. The women found "everything wrong" while others lodged complaints about friction over relatives, alcoholism of husbands and lack of affection.

"Children make a source of difficulty for many women," says the magazine, "not being able to have them or the husbands not wanting them. There was one woman distressed to find out that her husband had turned out to be her child. He wasn't morose or diseased, but he wasn't a mate. He chafed his husband never married me. He is hopelessly immature, this woman said."

NOT FRIENDLY
Austin Butcher attended church a few days ago, says a Los Angeles newspaper, and stood up with the brothers and sisters as they sang that good old hymn, "Shall We Gather at the River?" Each time he was being sung he counted thirty members in the congregation who did not speak to each other on the street and elsewhere. The thought occurred to him, will they know each other there when they seem to be so friendly?

Irrigation Districts Sponsor Move

A statewide organization to pressure the people of Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 27 will be seventh on the November ballot. It has been completed according to announcement yesterday of the water users' constitutional amendment committee.

Leaders of the organization are at Merced. It is sponsored by the Irrigation Districts Association, California and the California Irrigation Association, W. D. is executive secretary. A campaign in favor of the amendment already is under way.

RIPIARIAN STATUS
The amendment was adopted by the legislature in the 1927 session. The Supreme Court determined that the case was not a riparian case but a riparian owner. The doctrine, according to the court, stands in the way of the amendment and should be modified. The proposed amendment declares that the general welfare requires that water resources be wisely used and that rights in water or water course be limited to the reasonably required for public use.

Durbrow of Willows is chairman, and the active manager of the campaign is in the person of Mr. Wagner, secretary of the Riparian Districts Association of Oregon.

The executive committee includes: Althearn of San Francisco; Edward Fletcher of San Diego; Griffin of Modesto; Alden A. Brown, Sacramento banker; George A. Bennett, head of the agricultural department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce; Ralph Merritt, head of the Raisin Growers Association; former Supreme Court Justice Warren Olney, Jr.; A. Tarpey, Fresno vineyardist; Gov. George C. Pardee, chairman of the East Bay Municipal Utility District; and Arthur J. ... banker.

"GODLESS GIRL" TO BILTMORE

De Mille Drama to be Given Premiere, Minus
Bright Lights, 20th Inst.

Monday night, the 20th inst., has been definitely chosen as the date of the opening of Cecil B. De Mille's Pathe picture, "The Godless Girl," and the Biltmore Theater management is now laying elaborate plans to make this premiere one of the most distinguished theatrical openings of the season.

Additional interest is attached to this event through the fact that the Biltmore showing of "The Godless Girl" will be the first presentation of this picture anywhere in the world.

Judging from present plans, this opening will be one of the most unusual premieres ever staged in Los Angeles. The usual glaring lights and jostling crowds will be lacking, but while a large portion of the local film colony has already signified their intention of attending, the opening performance will be further distinguished by the attendance of prominent city officials and leading citizens of Los Angeles.

"The Godless Girl" is a story of modern youth written by Jeanie Macpherson, author of the screen plays of "The Ten Commandments" and "The King of Kings." It is said to present graphically two definite thoughts—the danger of spreading propaganda through the schools of America and the need of improving the reformatory systems in a great many of our States. The latter angle is realistically depicted by De Mille's careful plans for its incorporation into his story by sending special investigators into the penal institutions of forty-four States in the Union. Their reports and the affidavits which they secured form the basis of much of the picture's action.

Lina Basquette portrays the title role in "The Godless Girl," with other characters in the picture are Noah Beery, George Buraya, Marie
Prevost, Eddie Quilian, Julia Faye, Clarence Burton and a long list of favorites.

The Biltmore presentation of "The Godless Girl" will be handled on an extensive scale with a large symphony orchestra and sound effects accompanying each showing.

Although Zeffe Tilbury's mother, Lydia Thompson, was a favorite actress in musical pieces in England, she refused to allow her daughter to go on the stage. Miss Tilbury was kept in school at Brighton and she made her first appearance as an actress. However, the illness of a member of her mother's company gave her an opportunity and she made her first appearance as Clotilda in the burlesque "Toto."
Within a year she was playing the leading role of Mary Colepepper in "The Overland Route" at the Hay-market Theater in London.

"I have seen many changes in the stage and all of them are for the better," says Miss Tilbury, who plays the wise-counseling grandmother in the Henry Duff Playhouse production of "Why Men Leave Home."
This scene is printed in the form of "Why Men Leave Home," now in its sixth week at the President. "I am not one to talk about the 'good old days.' Both production and acting today are on a higher level than when I was a girl. Such settings as Rita Glover has designed for 'Why Men Leave Home' were never dreamed of when I went on the stage. Then, too, the use of gas for illumination and our lighting effects were very crude."

NEW MUSICAL REVUE
AT POM POM, FRIDAY

"Broadway to Paris," new musical revue in sixteen scenes, opens at the Pom Pom, Hollywood, Friday night, under the direction of William Mellishjohn, with costumes by Fabian and settings of black, white, and silver by Bakaloff. The current offering, "Deauville Frolics," continues until Friday, thus completing a four weeks' engagement.
Twice nightly performances at the Pom Pom are drawing stage and screen notables, visiting celebrities, society folk, and others who seek after-theater diversion.

The cast of "Broadway to Paris"
includes Harold Bell and Fredy Coates, California songbirds; Anthony and Antonette, sensational flamancers from the Moulin Rouge, Paris; Candrea Septette, youthful trumpeter; Sharen, alluring Persian dancer from the silver slipper, New York; Ruby Berry, blues singer; Paula Hays, noted artist's model; and Helman's Pom Pom Reviewers.

"CIRCUS" WILL BE SEEN AT BROADWAY

Charlie Chaplin's latest comedy tale of the swiftest, peanuts, pink lemonade, downy elephants, tigers and all that goes into a circus entitled "The Circus" is the next attraction at the Broadway Palace Theater opening Saturday. The week's run of Buster Keaton's latest comedy picture "Steamboat Bill, Jr." with Ernest Torrence and Buster Keaton will close on Friday night.

"COSSACKS" TO RIDE
AT UPTOWN FRIDAY

"The Cossacks," a spectacular romance of the hard-riding soldiers of Russia, will open at the Uptown Theater for a week starting Friday.

In "The Cossacks," John Gilbert is seen in the leading male role as a hard-riding young Cossack soldier, and Renee Adoree as the heroine.
Ernest Torrence is seen as a Cos-sack chief along with a troop of Russian Cossacks imported from Russia for this production.

GAINS SYMPATHETIC ROLE Gardner James, noted for his work in "Hell Bent for Heaven,"
"The Flaming Forest" and other screen hits, has been added to the cast of Ramon Novarro's new starting vehicle "Gold Brind" at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.
James will play the role of Specs, the young ensign whose bad eyesight robbed him of his desired place in naval aviation. It is the principal sympathetic role in the picture.

Oh, Thrill Upon Thrill!

Max Dill has fixed the date for the opening of "Pair O' Docs," his new musical show coming to the Hollywood Music Box, for Wednesday night, the 22nd inst.

Dill is entering the Los Angeles production field in a dual capacity.
He is coauthor of the book of "Pair O' Docs" and is also supervising the production in a managerial capacity. Furthermore, the piece is being staged under his personal direction and it is interesting in this connection to note that during his activities in Pacific Coast theatricals he has been identified with more than ninety productions.

The idea for "Pair O' Docs" was conceived by Dr. Charles D. Mc-Gottigan of San Francisco, who wrote the piece originally as a skit, which was presented at the Family Club in San Francisco with Kolb and Dill as the principal comedians.
Max Dill elaborated this sketch into a three-act book for musical setting and Leo Flinders wrote the score.

The basic idea of the story is health rejuvenation. Dr. McGottigan gathered the basic idea from association with men in the medical profession. The scenes of the play are laid in and around a health resort near Miami, Fla. The two central comedy characters are a couple of quick doctors who get themselves in and out of numerous complications through the application of various rejuvenation treatments. These parts are to be played by Fields and Johnston, two economic tumbblers who have been featured in many New York shows.

Broken Neck and Two Scars

Doors and Windows Locked
Add to Baffling Mystery

Except on Body, No Signs of Rough Action Found

VENTURA, Aug. 1.—Carefully laid out in bed with his neck broken and two ugly gashes on his face, the body of George Stephenson, 43 years of age, was found last night in his shack in the Ventura River bed near neighbors who brought food for the man.

Stephenson had lived in the shack for seven years. Coroner Oliver Reardon was called by the neighbors and made an investigation. The house was in perfect order, with the three small rooms clean and tidy. The dining table was laid out with fork, spoons, knives and other things in preparation for a meal.

He was lying on his back, his arms close to his sides and with the head of the bed raised. The body was found by neighbors who were called by the neighbors who brought food for the man.

There was no evidence of a struggle. The door was locked on the inside and was broken open by officers. The screens were intact.

The man was last seen alive on Saturday and neighbors were certain that at that time there were no scars or abrasions on his face.

VENTURA, Aug. 1.—Plans and specifications for construction of two additions to the General Hospital building were accepted this morning by the Board of Supervisors.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 1.—Pinned beneath the wing of a training seaplane when it plunged into San Diego Bay, Reserve Ensign Clayton Schmidt, 27 years of age, and Aviation Machinist's Mate Harold T. McIntyre, 22, were drowned shortly before noon today. The plane, piloted by Schmidt, landed upside down near the strand about three-quarters of a mile south of Coronado Tenth City.

Details as to the cause of the mishap are not known as no eye witnesses have been found to testify whether the plane crashed or upset while a landing was being made. When found the craft was floating bottom side up with its pontoons above the water.

The flyers made frantic efforts to extricate themselves from the wreckage revealed. The safety belts of the pair had been unfastened. A naval board of inquiry has been appointed to probe the cause of the disaster.

Schmidt's home address is given as 140 N. Vermont avenue, Portmouth, Va., where his mother, next in kin, resides. McIntyre's address is Route 2, Salem, Or.

LIGHT PETITION LOST WITH ALL SIGNATURES

MONROVIA, Aug. 1.—"It's just too bad." That's what the opposing faction said after learning that Col. R. E. Frith lost his petition requesting better lights in the northern section of the city.

Col. Frith appeared before the Council in session last night and there told his story of how the petition got lost, or rather explained that he didn't know where to find it. He assured the board that it bore the necessary signatures.

The Council responded by releasing a duplicate copy of the petition to Frith, who has to make the calls on his neighbors all over again. An opinion was advanced by a spectator that maybe the opposition knew the whereabouts of the petition, but that side of the matter was dropped.

Stolen Machine Recovered in San Bernardino

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 1.—Four bandits piled their trade in the shadow of the historic cross on the summit of Mt. Rubidoux early yesterday, it became known today. Victims of the hold-up men were five young people, members of prominent Riverside and San Bernardino county families. The robbers are believed to have taken $180 in cash, a wrist watch, a girl's wrist watch, and a valuable machine recovered in San Bernardino.

The hold-up took place while the youths and their girl friends were sitting in their automobile on the peak of Rubidoux, just beneath the huge wooden cross that tops the summit. Another car suddenly pulled up and four men leaped out, covering the party with revolvers. The robbers, apparently nervous, failed to search several of the young folks, the names of whom the police said they did not obtain, but who are residents of this city.

The robbers, after putting the engines of the other cars out of commission, ordered Dewey's automobile and sped down the hill. The car in which they ascended Rubidoux was stolen from Y. E. Dunsmuir, San Bernardino, who recovered the car, police learned. Dewey's car was recovered in San Bernardino.

of Year Caught

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 1.—Fish caught in Balboa values may take some of the trophies from the veteran anglers in the famous Catalina fishing ground if local sportsmen from here have the same experience as did H. S. MacKay of Pasadena.

While fishing from the power boat, "The Scout," he hooked a thirty-three-pound bluefin tuna, the first of the season and of unusual size.

After coming into Newport Bay and reaching the shore, MacKay immediately pointed the "Scout" out of the harbor and was on his way to Catalina Island to catch the fish with the Tuna Club, of which he is a member. The bluefin tuna was the first that had been registered there for the season, also.

COMMISSIONER SAYS BONDS TO BE ISSUED

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 1.—Notwithstanding the filing of a suit in the Los Angeles Superior Court last Saturday to restrain the city of Santa Monica from collecting assessments for improving on the Palisades Beach road, bonds against the city were issued today, at once, Finance Commissioner Helton stated today.

The restraining action was brought by Louis B. Mayer and Laurence Mitchell, through their attorney, Leslie R. Hewitt. The plaintiffs alleged the assessment of the improvement was excessive, that the city failed to file a notice of the assessment and to publish the notice as required by law. Commissioner Helton, on behalf of the city, denied the allegations and stated that the property was duly posted.

It was said that original estimates of $15 per front foot had been increased to $25 when bond owners received their bills.

SOUTH GATE, Aug. 1.—A search made by officers in several cities in California for Alice Russell, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Russell of Escondido, has come to an end here. COUNCILMAN AFRAID FIRE HOUSE MAY BURN

ONTARIO, Aug. 1.—There shouldn't be any great danger of a modern fire station burning to the ground but R. F. Price, member of City Council and ex-chief of the fire station department, isn't taking any chances.

Price almost prevented awarding of a contract for the new fire station last night, feeling that a thorough test of competing roofs should be made against fire before a new top is put on the fire hall.

When Price was convinced that fire stations aren't supposed to burn down from a moral point of view, especially when there are three fire trucks in the building ready for instant use, Price withdrew his objections and took it for granted that the roof to be installed will be fireproof.

Seventh-Day Elder Warns of

Plans Being Considered for Permanent Camp

Glendale City Council Dines
With Religious Leaders

GLENDAL, Aug. 1.—The spread of atheism in the public schools of the country through organized agencies is one of the dangers against which parents must be on the guard, it was declared by Prof. H. G. Lucas, educational secretary of the Pacific Union conference, addressing the Seventh Day Adventist camp meeting here today.

Prof. Lucas attacked the Junior League as one of the organizations that is seeking to undermine the religious faith of the rising generation, and he showed on a screen a reproduction of a permanent issue of the league's publication, which he said was edited by a young girl, yet in which the league's propaganda of a brilliant mentality. The secretary of the league, Prof. Lucas asserted, had recently challenged the Christian faith by asserting that the works of the league is meeting with success everywhere.

PERMANENT CAMP PLANNED.—The members of the denomination tomorrow morning are scheduled to devote the session to a discussion of the plans for the acquisition of a permanent site for their future camp meetings. Such a site would have to be at least forty acres in extent, or preferably fifty acres, and if the plans to purchase a tract are carried into effect, the property would be improved by the erection of frame pavilions and cottages to take the place of the canvas pavilions and tents now in use. The only drawback to the plan is the fact that the Glendale and Glendale avenue, church leaders state, is the fact that it imposes the necessity of using temporary housing and emergency equipment.

The permanent site and buildings which are planned to acquire would be used for every church meeting besides the annual camp meetings, and the problem takes on added importance in view of the fact that the Southern California conference is the largest, numerically, in the denomination, while Southern California is the meeting place of the church leaders and missionaries many times throughout the year.

CATERIA FEEDS THOUSANDS.—One of the most efficient departments at the camp meeting is the combined cafeteria, grocery store and delicatessen, which is said to be the largest in operation in California. It is the meeting place of the church leaders and missionaries many times throughout the year.

PAIR GETS BAD START.—The homes gained a start on their journey when the car was wrecked on the hill and frightened residents when Gordon Jones, Hank Smith and Corwin and Yarnell Glanis finally succeeded in cornering and robbing them.

Banks of the 130 or more western farmers who will converge Sunday was swelled yesterday by the entering of two Indian buckskin men, who were carrying a large sack of bread, besides bread; seventy heads of potatoes, $1200 worth of milk, $400 worth of butter, 1000 eggs, 500 chickens, 1000 worth of vegetables and $2000 worth of groceries and health foods, including meat substitutes, coffee and meat are not included in the diet and only pure fruit juices are served.

All of the food and other necessities have been donated by the camp meeting. The camp meeting is the largest in the denomination, while Southern California is the meeting place of the church leaders and missionaries many times throughout the year.

PASADENA, Aug. 1.—One of the greatest pest problems in the United States is the fact that the termite, a white ant, is a different insect from the common carpenter ant, according to Walter C. Tanner, director of the California Department of Agriculture.

Tanner revealed that the termites maintain an army of spies which warn the other insects whenever mankind threatens their destruction with poisons and fumigations. "Thousands of dollars' worth of damage is being done each week by the termites throughout Southern California," according to the speaker. This damage is not confined to buildings, as it has recently been discovered that the ants attack trees and shrubs.
